A strategic leader with specialist expertise in the briefing and design of new workplace and education environments

Bill Dowzer has been involved in the design and direction of numerous award winning projects ranging from public, educational and cultural buildings to commercial work environments. Bill has extensive expertise in masterplanning and early project strategic direction and brief creation. He has developed specialist expertise in the design of new workplace and education environments which incorporate a high degree of user consultation in the development of sustainable design strategies. Bill is currently the Studio Director for the BVN Sydney Office and is engaged in creating new business opportunities and developing research into people focused environments that support the cultural aspirations of various client bodies. Bill has a strong interest in the making of places, stemming back to his early work on the urban design team for the development of Homebush Bay for the Sydney Olympics and recently led the BVN urban design team in the development of two masterplans for the North West Rail Link Precincts. Graduating from The University of Newcastle in 1993 with Honours and the University and RAIA medals, Bill has since lectured at the University of Newcastle and tutored at The University of Sydney and The University of New South Wales. Prior to his current role as BVN NSW Studio Director, Bill established and led the BVN Melbourne Studio from 2000-05.
